Hiking & Scenic Points

BEACHES – TRAILS – VIEWS

OSWALD WEST STATE PARK

Stretching along four miles of coastline in dense, temperate rainforest, Oswald West State Park has a beautifully secluded sandy beach and miles of trails leading to breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean.

This vast, scenic treasure is without a doubt one of the most spectacular parks in Oregon. Located two hours west of Portland on the north Oregon Coast, Oswald West State Park is popular with surfers, hikers and beach goers and has much to offer in the way of recreation. Oswald West State Park offers miles of hiking trails in this 2,484 acre park. A 13-mile stretch of the Oregon Coast Trail weaves its way through the entire park, starting at the community of Arch Cape and extending south towards the town of Manzanita.

Two prominent headlands, Cape Falcon and Neah-kah-nie Mountain are included in the park and offer great hikes. Park in one of four parking lots along Highway 101 and enter one of the best preserved coastal rainforests in Oregon. Low-growing ferns, salal and salmonberry are shaded by massive western red cedar, western hemlock and Sitka Spruce trees that form the basis of the temperate coastal rainforest ecosystem of the Northwest. Oswald West does not offer camping.

ECOLA STATE PARK

Wrapping around Tillamook Head, between Seaside and Cannon Beach, Ecola State Park stretches along 9 miles of coastline and offers outstanding sightseeing and recreation opportunities combined with a storied past. Though the scenic and hiking opportunities may be the main allure, the diversity of outdoor recreation including picnicking, tidepooling, surfing and wildlife observation make Ecola State park a destination year round.

Sightseeing opportunities begin the moment you enter the park. The entrance road meanders through a lush Sitka spruce forest, eventually opening up to a grassy bluff offering breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean. You may recognize the viewpoint south, a scene from many published photographs. Sea stacks punctuate the long sweep of shoreline south, backed by the town of Cannon Beach and ridge of coastal mountains above.

Ecola's trails offer cliffside viewpoints of secluded coves, forested promontories and even a long abandoned lighthouse. The park's network of trails include an 8 mile segment of the Oregon Coast Trail, and a 2 1/2 mile historical interpretive route called the Clatsop Loop Trail. Part of the Clatsop Loop Trail and the trail over Tillamook Head follow in the footsteps of the Corps of Discovery. Captain William Clark and 12 members of the Corps of Discovery traveled through what is now the park in 1806 in search of a beached whale near present-day Cannon Beach. After scaling the north slope of Tillamook Head and reaching one of its viewpoints, Clarke described the vista as "... the grandest and most pleasing prospects which my eyes ever surveyed..."

Stop for a picnic before taking to the many miles of trails. Visit Indian Beach, a secluded sandy beach, popular with surfers and beach goers, offering tide pools and scenic splendor. Keep a watchful eye open for the park's wildlife, such as deer, elk or eagles soaring overhead. You may even spot migrating gray whales throughout winter and spring.

Hiking Trails

FORT TO SEA

The National Park Service's Fort to Sea Trail, accessible at all times of the year, follows a route that members of Lewis and Clark's Corps of Discovery might have taken in order to commute to the Pacific Ocean. Much of the trail lies within the Lewis and Clark National Historical Park, which includes Sunset Beach State Recreation Site. The trail can be hiked from either end (no fee at Sunset Beach; $10 pass at Fort Clatsop), with an optional partial loop called the Kwis Kwis Trail on the Fort Clatsop end. Hikers will experience dark woods of Sitka spruce, sedge wetlands, cow pastures in the Clatsop Plains, and views up and down the sweeping 16-mile stretch of beach that extends from the mouth of the Columbia to the Necanicum River.

- Start point: Sunset Beach Trailhead
- End point: Fort Clatsop
- Hike type: In and out
- Distance: 12.9 miles
- Elevation gain: 505 feet
- High point: 370 feet
- Difficulty: Moderate
- Seasons: All year
- Family Friendly: Yes, in short sections
- Backpackable: No
- Crowded: No

CAPE FALCON

Often overlooked by beach going visitors to Oswald West State Park, the relatively short trek to Cape Falcon makes for a relaxing day hike and offers a great alternative to relaxing on the beach. The 2.5-mile trail to the Salal Headland is a truly majestic journey through some of the Northwest's best preserved old-growth coastal forests. The undergrowth of the forest is so well protected that it also makes for one of the region's most muddy excursions, so be prepared to get a little dirty. From the headlands, phenomenal views of the Pacific, Smugglers Cove, and Neahkahnie Mountain open up. If you visit in the spring or summer, you'll also get a beautiful showing of wildflowers including the white and pink bells of salal, fireweed, Columbia lily (tiger lily), and Idaho blue-eyed grass.

- Start point: Cape Falcon Trailhead
- End point: Cape Falcon
- Trail Log: Trail Log
- Hike Type: Out and back
- Distance: 4.8 miles round trip
- Elevation gain: 160 feet
- High point: 250 feet
- Difficulty: Easy
- Seasons: Year round
- Family Friendly: Yes
- Backpackable: No
- Crowded: Yes

OREGON COAST TRAIL

The majesty of Oregon's 362-mile coastline unfolds around every bend along the Oregon Coast Trail, also known as the OCT. Hikers cross sandy beaches, meander through forest-shaded corridors, traverse majestic headlands and pass through 28 coastal towns.

Most of the route is on the beach, although some segments wind through state parks or public lands. Generous landowners provide trail easements for portions of trail on private property. About 10 percent of the trail is on the shoulders of U.S. 101, county roads and city streets. Check out the Oregon State Park's website for more information on this trail, its sections and possible closures along its route.

<https://stateparks.oregon.gov/index.cfm?do=v.page&id=95>

CATHEDRAL TREE

This short hiking trail through Astoria's hillside urban forest is a perfect way to see two of the town's most unique landmarks. Departing from Irving Street high above Astoria's historic downtown, the trail ventures one-half mile to the giant Sitka spruce known as the 'Cathedral Tree' that has survived more than three centuries of hurricane-force winds and recent human development. From the Cathedral Tree, if you extend your adventure an additional mile through a well-preserved coastal forest to the top of Coxcomb Hill, you will reach the iconic Astoria Column and to enjoy the 360 degree panoramic views of the region.

- Start point: Irving Avenue Trailhead
- End point: Astoria Column
- Hike Type: Lollipop loop
- Distance: 3.0 miles
- Elevation gain: 565 feet
- High Point: 595 feet
- Difficulty: Easy
- Seasons: All year
- Family Friendly: Yes
- Backpackable: No
- Crowded: No

Viewpoints

ELK FLATS & TREASURE COVE

Less than 15 minutes of driving from Cannon Beach, you'll find a short trail packed with scenery – with cliffs that plunge into the ocean, sweeping seaside views, and dramatic coastal landscapes. The Elk Flats trail will take you to the swirling waters of Devil's Caldron, and to the top of a cliff peering over the waves.

Located in Oswald West State Park on the Oregon Coast, the trail takes you through a fauna-covered valley before opening up to sweeping views of the coast, with rugged cliffs and crashing waves below.

For stunning views, take a left before getting into the brush part of the Elk Flats trail, there is a path to see the cliffs without the hike!

NEAHKAHNIE MOUNTAIN

Neahkahnie Mountain juts 1,600 feet above the beach, and either of two trails will give you a breathtaking view of the crescent beach that forms along Manzanita below, the sprawling Nehalem River estuary, and the tree-capped peaks that surround the Tillamook Coast. The shorter trail, a three mile round trip, features an elevation gain of 900 feet; the longer, more intense trail, measures 5.1 miles one way, including a 1,000-foot elevation gain.

*These magnificent views are only accessible by trail.

ECOLA POINT

Ecola Point is part of expansive Ecola State Park, which extends north over Tillamook Head. Most visitors just drive here and take a short stroll, though, and photographic images from Ecola Point almost seem to define the Oregon Coast. Views north extend to Tillamook Head and the Tillamook Rock Light. Just below are the Sea Lion Rocks, bustling with seabirds. Crescent Beach curves outward to Chapman Point, and beyond lie Haystack Rock and the assorted headlines and stacks that adorn the seascape south to Oswald West State Park.

Views from Ecola Point can be accessed by just going into the Ecola State Park Parking lot. There are walking paths, fenced views and a covered picnic area.

NEAHKAHNIE VIEWPOINT

The views along Oregon's 363 miles of coastline can be downright stunning, but there's one that's particularly compelling. The Neahkahnie Mountain Overlook is worthy of a stop as you're driving along Highway 101, and if you have the time and inclination, you can also take a hike to the Neahkahnie mountain summit for an even better view.

But if you want to skip the hike, this is the place for you! There are also many other pull offs with gorgeous views on the way to Manzanita.

Beaches

SHORT SANDS BEACH

A popular beach that's alive with activity on any weekend or summer day, Short Sand Beach lies sheltered in a cove blanketed by forests and edged with volcanic basalt and sandstone cliffs characteristic of the Oregon coastline. Nicknamed "Shorty's" by locals, the beach is just a half mile walk through the woods. From the main parking lot, walk under Highway 101, and down the trail, following the contours of Short Sand Creek through the forest. Cross the creek on a railroad-style bridge and you'll find yourself at a beautiful picnic area overlooking the beach. There is also a 45 foot waterfall called Blumenthal Falls. It is one of a very few waterfalls in the Northwest which can be seen dropping into the Pacific Ocean without aid of a boat.

INDIAN BEACH

Just about an hour west from Portland in Ecola State Park you'll find Indian beach. It's a 5 dollar fee to get into the park, but that fee also keeps the crowds out. Once you get into the park just follow the signs to Indian beach just a little ways down the road. This beach is filled with surfers, but its super fun to watch and they mainly stay on one end of the beach. On a warm day the water isn't freezing cold and definitely worth a dip in. There are some rocks on the left of the beach that are fun to climb around and explore also. There is also some hiking you can do, the trailhead starts up by the parking lot. It is called the Clatsop Loop trail and is roughly 2.6 miles round trip. A fairly easy hike with some great viewpoints along the outer edge of the loop. There are bathrooms up at the halfway point at Hikers camp, you can always backpack in there.

CHAPMAN & CRESCENT BEACH

Chapman Point, at the north end of the community of Cannon Beach, separates Chapman Beach from Crescent Beach. The point itself is part of the John Yeon State Natural Site, named after the preservationist who rescued the point from becoming the site of a dance hall. Offshore are Thimble Rock and Bird Rocks. You can easily walk around Chapman Point, from Chapman Beach to Crescent Beach, at low tide. The natural site itself has scramblings points, small caves and a trail that leads to a scenic view of both Cannon Beach & Crescent Beach.

HUG POINT

Hug Point State Recreation Site offers an easy access to the beach, a peek at some interesting local history and loads of scenic beauty. Just 5 miles south of Cannon Beach, this little wayside includes forested picnic areas, a restroom and a short walkway to the beach.

The lovely sandy cove beach just off the park is backed by hills vegetated by salal, ferns and sitka spruce. Located between Austin Point to the south and Hug Point to the north, a short walk north reveals a seasonal waterfall, caves carved into sandstone cliffs and tide pools accessible during low tide.

Seaside

Seaside is a small resort city in northwestern Oregon. Its beach is known for surf breaks and a 1920s promenade with seafood restaurants, unique shops and colorful lights lining along its walk. The Seaside Aquarium has touch tanks and a seal exhibit. To the south, Tillamook Head National Recreation Trail climbs a forested cape to Ecola State Park, with views of the 19th-century Tillamook Rock Lighthouse. Rich wildlife includes eagles in the Necanicum River estuary and migrating gray whales.

TRAILS, HISTORY & MORE!

FORT TO SEA TRAIL

Beginning at Fort Clatsop, the trail climbs gradually through shady, forested terrain until it reaches an overlook on Clatsop Ridge about 2 miles and 200 higher in elevation than the trailhead. From here the path becomes more rugged as it drops into thicker forest and steeper grades, winding around wetland lakes and undergrowth of primeval proportions. After passing beneath the tunnel the trail trades shady forest for exposed grass farm fields and cattle farms. Much of the route leads between fencing, and you must cross several cattle gates in order to continue. Continue for about 2 miles, crossing over bridges and proceeding as the trail turns to soft sand. You'll feel the cool coastal wind and see surf pines that line the path. At about 6 miles from the trailhead you'll arrive at the Sunset Beach parking area (vault toilet, no water). From here you can continue about .3 miles further until you climb one last slope that is covered in dune grass before you reach the Pacific. The Fort to Sea Trail is a good walk for all hiking levels, and the recently-opened Kwis Kwis Trail has several intersections with the Fort To Sea, allowing one to create a loop route at a distance they feel comfortable with. A round-trip hike on the Fort to Sea Trail would make for a solid day. Another option would be using the free parking area at Sunset Beach to shuttle cars and allow for a one-way hike.

The trailhead is located at the southwestern end of the first parking lot, signed as RV parking, inside the Fort Clatsop Monument. A $3 parking fee, payable inside the fort's visitor center, applies. The trail is ADA-compliant from a second parking area located .2 miles further south on Fort Clatsop Road to Clatsop Ridge Overlook. Free parking is available at Sunset Beach. All parking area gates are open daily from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

***In the Surf Pines community, there is a connector trail next to the North beach access on Ocean Drive. When you see the beach trail, instead take a right into the forest. It will lead you to Sunset Beach and the trailhead. Remember, this is an out and back trail, the whole way is about 13 miles if not more! Its ideal to do the trail in chunks or set up a car shuttle. Happy Hiking!

LEWIS & CLARK NATIONAL HISTORICAL PARK FORT CLATSOP

Fort Clatsop was the encampment of the Lewis and Clark Expedition in the Oregon Country near the mouth of the Columbia River during the winter of 1805-1806. Located along the Lewis and Clark River at the north end of the Clatsop Plains approximately 5 miles (8.0 km) southwest of Astoria, the fort was the last encampment of the Corps of Discovery, before embarking on their return trip east to St. Louis.

The Lewis and Clark Expedition wintered at Fort Clatsop before returning east to St. Louis in the spring of 1806. It took just over 3 weeks for the Expedition to build the fort, and it served as their camp from December 8, 1805 until their departure on March 23, 1806.<sup>[2]</sup>

The site is now protected as part of the Lewis and Clark National Historical Park, part of which was formerly known as Fort Clatsop National Memorial until 2004.<sup>[3]</sup> The original Fort Clatsop decayed in the wet climate of the region but was reconstructed for the sesquicentennial in 1955 from sketches in the journals of William Clark. The replica lasted for fifty years, but was severely damaged by fire in early October 2005, weeks before Fort Clatsop's bicentennial. A new replica, more rustic and rough-hewn, was built by about 700 volunteers in 2006; it opened with a dedication ceremony that took place on December 9. The site is currently operated by the National Park Service.

The park includes various activities such as...

- Cell Phone Audio Self-guided Tours
- Fort Programs, including becoming a Junior Ranger!
- Ranger Guided Canoe & Kayak Tours
- Hiking, Non-Motorized Boat Launches & Wildlife
- & many more special events!

ASTORIA GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB

Astoria Golf and Country Club is a private member owned club that features one of the more enjoyable and memorable golf courses in the state of Oregon, as well as one of the best classic golf courses in the country. Designed by George Junior and Charles Haldeman and completed in 1924, Astoria offers a memorable and scenic layout that takes full advantage of the rolling sand dunes that define the Clatsop Plains.

Astoria GCC is highly regarded among golf course raters who have consistently acknowledged the genius of its unique design. In 1997 GolfWeek Magazine ranked the course #89 in the Top 100 Classic Courses in the United States. By comparison, the North Course at Olympia Fields near Chicago, IL, which hosted the 2003 US Open, was ranked #86 that year by the same publication, just 3 spots ahead of Astoria.

PLAYGROUNDS & RECREATIONAL PARKS

CULLABY LAKE COUNTY PARK

Cullaby Lake County Park is located off U.S. Highway 101 between Astoria and Seaside. The park has 165 acres, offering public access to Cullaby Lake boat launch and docks, four-stall flush restrooms, picnic shelters, barbecue pits, horseshoe pits, play areas, fishing, swimming, nature observation of beavers, bald eagles, deer, and waterfowl, and is home to the Lindgren Cabin, a Finnish-American heritage site.

ROBINSON CITY PARK

Large city community park with play structure and play areas, Basketball courts, baseball field and a wooded area and stream.

CARNAHAN COUNTY PARK

Carnahan County Park is located off U.S. Highway 101 between Astoria and Seaside. The 30-acre park is at the north end of Cullaby Lake and offers passive lake sports, day use activities and access to land leased by the Boy Scouts of America. There are no facilities at this park. The day-use fee of $5 per vehicle per day is collected May through September. This park neighbors Cullaby park and offers a boat launch, fishing, picnic areas, trails and water access.

WATERFRONT TRAIL & CARRUTHERS PARK

The Warrenton Waterfront Trail runs for nearly 5 miles through the small city of Warrenton, located near where the mighty Columbia River empties into the Pacific Ocean in northwestern Oregon. A mix of on-road route and rail-trail bridges the gap between the two waterfront portions. Navigating the sometimes confusing on-road portion is worth the trouble, as trail users are rewarded with stunning views of the massive Astoria-Megler Bridge, the large ships passing underneath it, and the pilot boats and helicopters guiding them through this treacherous stretch of the Columbia. Easy parking is located at Carruthers Park, which offers a picnic area, dog park and swing set.

Fort Stevens State Park

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW!

One of the nation's largest public campgrounds, Fort Stevens marks the site of a military installation once used to guard the mouth of the Columbia River. The fort saw service for 84 years, from the Civil War to World War II.

Today, Fort Stevens is a 4,300-acre park offering a variety of recreation adventures, including camping, beach-combing, a freshwater lake, trails, wildlife viewing, and an historic shipwreck. Park features include:

- Coffenburg Lake has two picnic areas with swimming, restrooms and boat ramp. A 2-mile trail circles the lake.
- Columbia Shore Disc Golf Course
- 15 miles of multiuse trails
- Views of the Columbia River Bar from the South Jetty Observation Tower
- Adult and youth bike rentals
- Kayak Tillamook offers kayak tours on Trestle Bay. Call 503-866-4808
- Fort Stevens marks the northern-most trailhead for the Oregon Coast Trail
- Life jacket loaner stations at Coffenburg Lake

Historic Military Site

Enjoy year-round military displays at the military museum and information center. Visit the only Civil War era earthen fort on the west coast, or explore the many turn-of-the-century, concrete artillery gun batteries. Underground tours are available during the summer of a gun battery that served as a World War II command center. For tour information, call the Friends of Old Fort Stevens at 503-861-2000.

*Tours may be subject to cancellation due to COVID-19 pandemic.

A BIT OF HISTORY IN THE SAND...

Peter Iredale was a four-masted steel barque sailing vessel that ran ashore October 25, 1906, on the Oregon coast en route to the Columbia River. She was abandoned on Clatsop Spit near Fort Stevens in Warrenton about four miles south of the Columbia River channel.

Astoria

Astoria is a port city in Clatsop County, Oregon, United States. Founded in 1811, Astoria is the oldest city in the state of Oregon and was the first American settlement west of the Rocky Mountains. The Astoria Column, a towering hilltop monument with murals depicting area history, offers panoramic views. The Columbia River Maritime Museum showcases fishing, shipping and military history in a waterfront building. Set in a Queen Anne-style Victorian mansion, Flavel House Museum features period furniture as well as manicured gardens.

Local Brew Favorites

Astoria is home to many different local breweries, all with a mission to create a engaged and welcoming community for family and friends to make memories.

BUOY BEER COMPANY

Handcrafted with Pride in Astoria, Oregon
Together we spend our days (and nights) making damn good beer, great food, and working hard to create a tremendous space and culture for our community to enjoy with us. And we're proud of that.

ROGUE PIER 39

Opened in July 2007 in the former Bumble Bee Tuna Cannery on Pier 39 over the Columbia River, our Astoria Public House has an impressive view of the river as well as a free-to-rent banquet event space, outdoor seating, a tasty menu, and 30 taps. Watch the Blazers or Timbers on our big screen inside or hang with the dogs on our patio with a view.

ASTORIA BREWING COMPANY

AWESOME VIEWS...AWESOME BREWS! Both locations offer handcrafted beer & are welcome to all ages. The Pub on 11th offers a full menu, spirits, wine, Columbia River deck view and much more! The place to be for...lunch, dinner, happy hour, handcrafted brews, live music, and hanging with friends and family.

FORT GEORGE BREWERY

Fort George opened its doors to Astoria as both a brewery and a public house in 2007.

The brewers and pub staff here share a common goal, to create a welcoming space where anyone in town can pull up a stool and enjoy a pint and a bite to eat. We take pride in our house-made offerings and our hospitality, and we're always looking for improvements that bring us one step closer to perfection.

REACH BREAK BREWING

Astoria is already a hot spot for craft beer lovers, but now you can add one more destination to your list.

Opened in spring 2017, just two blocks west of Fort George Brewery, Reach Break has several projects in the works in its large oak barrel cellar. While the sour beers are aging, they are focusing on large-bodied stouts, farmhouse-inspired saisons and hoppy, juicy IPAs. Food carts are on site keep the hunger at bay.

LOOKING FOR TREASURE?

Housed in the old Clatsop County Jail, a working jail from 1914 through 1976, the Oregon Film Museum continues the building's legacy as an actual working set for three movies: The Goonies, Short Circuit, and Come See The Paradise. We invite you to explore the films and production behind making movies in Oregon. Your visit will include the chance to make your own short movie utilizing our sets and green screens.

Experience Astoria!

VIEWS & ATTRACTIONS

ASTORIA RIVERWALK & TROLLEY

The Astoria Riverwalk, also known as the Astoria River Trail, stretches along part of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad, providing a lively, non motorized tour of the city's waterfront. Along the way, you'll find museums, restaurants, breweries, and interpretive kiosks, as well as a 1913 trolley (open March-December) that offers a historical narrative of the area, home to the one of the oldest European American settlements in the West. The shore is also an important site where 20,000 birds may gather each year during fall migration. There is also a trolley ride offered along the riverfront; the streetcar goes for about 3 miles along the riverfront.

ASTORIA COLUMN & ASTORIA MEGLER BRIDGE

Dedicated by the Great Northern Railway in 1926, the Astoria Column stands today as a monument to the history of the town. The Column is a unique work of Northwest art offering an unparalleled view of the meeting of many roads. Enjoy this incredible view overlooking downtown and the Astoria-Megler Bridge, the longest continuous truss bridge in America, stretching 4.1 miles from Oregon to Washington across the Columbia River.

HIDDEN UNDER THE BRIDGE...

The Astoria Bridge Beach is hidden under the Astoria-Megler Bridge located on the other side of the Maritime Memorial, it's the only place to find sand by the ocean in downtown Astoria!

Shopping

ASTORIA SUNDAY MARKET

ASTORIA SUNDAY MARKET, at the heart

of Astoria's Downtown, combines fresh produce, local arts & crafts, food, music and more in a lively downtown street market atmosphere. The market features up to 200 vendors each week offering locally-made products that have been hand-crafted, grown, created or gathered by the farmers, craftspeople and artisans featured each week. In addition, the Market has a lively food court with regional entertainment making this the gathering place each Sunday for locals and visitors to the region. The music is as fresh as the produce with musicians performing original songs.

Astoria Sunday Market began in 2000 and now covers four city blocks in the heart of historic Downtown Astoria on 12th Street between Marine Drive (Highway 30) and Exchange Street. The market has a 23-week season beginning Mother's Day each May and ending the second Sunday in October. Many downtown stores and shops in Astoria are also open on Sunday to provide you with even more shopping possibilities. There is plenty of downtown parking and the nearby waterfront River Walk and the recently refurbished Astoria Trolley allow you to extend your stroll to other parts of Astoria.

Golf & Good Eats

GEARHART GOLF LINKS

This 18-hole public course was founded in 1892 as three holes strewn across sand dunes - making it the oldest course in Oregon and west of the Mississippi. Its reputation has long been as a leading course on the Pacific Coast.

Today, Gearhart Golf Links retains its true links style and flavor, with vastly improved turf conditions and amenities across the 18 holes. Annual memberships are available, however golfers of all skill levels are welcome for daily fee play. Overnight hotel guests are eligible for discounted greens fees as well.

Check out tournaments offered on select Fridays throughout the year.

HIGHLAND GOLF CLUB

The Highlands Golf Club is a gorgeous executive style course that is located next to the Oregon Coast. It meanders through a neighborhood and is sculpted out of a hillside overlooking Gearhart Beach. This 1800-yard, par-30 course provides all the challenge and practice you need for your short game.

The course also lays claim to having the best prices on custom-made clubs and equipment in the country. Some manufacturers restrict them from advertising their low prices. Call for prices and a brochure, you won't be disappointed.

MCMENAMINS SAND BAR

The adorable, pocket-sized Sand Bar is open on weekends (Friday through Sunday); you'll find the grill fired up all day long, churning out burgers, dogs, elk sausages, Garden burgers and vegan burgers.

Alongside additional snacks, a full bar, rotating kegs and McMenamins canned beers, the coastal patio overlooking the putting green is the place to relax on summer weekends - with or without a round of golf.

MCMENAMINS SANDTRAP PUB

After some golf or beachcombing, the Sand Trap is a welcome spot for a bite to eat or a hot or cool handcrafted beverage. Enjoy fresh salads, sandwiches, burgers and more, all paired with McMenamins' craft beers, wines, spirits and coffees. We're open daily for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Outdoor seating is available on the patio, and pets are welcome. Any order from the pub can be taken to-go if you're continuing your Oregon Coast exploration.

LOOKING FOR A SWEET TREAT?

Pacific Way Bakery offers elevated cafe fare, notable wines & baked goods offered in a charming, historical setting.

Cannon Beach

Cannon Beach is a small coastal city in northwest Oregon. It's known for its long, sandy shore. Standing tall in the ocean, Haystack Rock is a seasonal haven for tufted puffins. On a headland to the north, trails in Ecola State Park offer sweeping views of the ocean, coves and a lighthouse. South is Arcadia Beach, with tide pools and a picnic area. Nearby Hug Point has sea caves. Boutiques and galleries dot downtown.

Galleries & Art

Downtown Cannon Beach is the best place to go gallery hopping! There are tons... but these are our favorites!

WHITE BIRD

The White Bird Gallery was one of the first galleries to fully incorporate fine art with fine craft. White Bird helped develop Cannon Beach's thriving art community.

Featuring Paintings, Sculpture, Prints, Photography, Glass, Ceramics and Jewelry, our gallery is recognized at both the regional and national level.

Jeffrey began his painting career over 40 years ago as a resident of Cannon Beach, Oregon. Primarily self taught, he studied with three Northwest Watercolorists in the early 1970's and just kept painting.

Known for his ability to capture the beauty and moods of the places where water joins land, Jeff controls the difficult medium of watercolor, often in very large paintings. He is rarely found far from the ocean's edge, the source of his inspiration.

After many years of displaying his artwork locally and in other galleries on the west coast, Jeff and his wife Carol opened their own gallery in 1987.

MODERN VILLA

The Modern Villa is a contemporary art gallery resting on the rocky shores of Cannon Beach, Oregon. With works from 10 artists including Sarah Goodnough, Josef Kote and Anne Packard, the gallery contains a diverse selection of original art pieces for sale.

Exhibitions embody the regions rustic coastline appeal. We showcase two-dimensional and three-dimensional works of a variety of different mediums, while some of our highlights include expressionist lifestyle, seascape and landscape paintings.

ARCHIMEDES

Archimedes Gallery is focused on exhibiting emerging and established artists from the Pacific Northwest and beyond. The gallery seeks to create a space that is responsive to the evolution of new contemporary art, while being accessible to a diverse public.

Our contemporary aesthetic currently ranges from Realism to Surrealism with a focus on illustrative work. Our goal is to introduce a different dynamic to the long standing reputation of the Cannon Beach art scene.

Galleries & Art

Downtown Cannon Beach is the best place to go gallery hopping! There are tons... but these are our favorites!

DRAGON FIRE

DragonFire Gallery focuses on affordable original art by local, regional and national artists in media ranging from paint to fiber to metal. Distinctive individuality is the artistic common thread. DragonFire seeks to provide you with a selection of work created to express your individuality through exquisite craftsmanship, artistry and design. Our goal is to help you find the piece that will be the cornerstone of your collection.

ICEFIRE GLASSWORKS

Icefire Glassworks has grown to represent several artists, each of whom has an abiding love for the Pacific Northwest and a connection to Cannon Beach specifically. Today, the gallery features the work of Suzanne Kindland, Michelle Kaptur, Mark Gordon, Kathleen Sheard, Jeff and Heather Thompson, Tony Parker, Teresa Kowalski, Robert Tamis, Laura Bowker and John Santellano.

Our focus is on glass art that showcases each of these artists' talents and dedication to skill.

BRONZE COAST

Bronze Coast Gallery was opened in Cannon Beach in 1993 by Kim Barnett, after a decade spent operating a large art foundry in eastern Oregon. A wide variety of sculpture is available, from classic limited edition bronze to unique and innovative contemporary artwork, as well as exquisite paintings. Representing over 40 artists from the northwest and beyond, we consider it a privilege to be involved with these extraordinary people and make it a priority to intricately understand their work in order to share the experience with others.

IMAGES OF THE WEST

World Renown Nature and Landscape Photographer Randall J Hodges has his second gallery called "Images of the West" Featuring his work on Limited Edition Gallery Wrapped Canvas, Metal, and unbelievable Lumachrome HD Acrylic Prints. The gallery stocks his book "Images of the West", Calendars and Greeting Cards. You can also pick up a flyer for his out in the field lessons and adventures where he teaches his "All In Camera" Photography Style.

SCHWEITER'S CONES & CANDY

Schwieter's Cones & Candy is a family-friendly environment that reminds us that candy is meant to be fun. At a Schwieter's Cones & Candy, we promise you will not go away without one of your senses being appealed to. You will smell freshly baked waffle cones, see walls dripping chocolate and cotton candy clouds floating above you, you will hear children enjoying their youth, and taste the sweet pleasure of chocolate as it touches your palate.

The Cannon Beach Chocolate Café was established in 2011 by Dr. Krupa and his wife Dawn Krupa. After many decades and many trips to Europe, Dr. Krupa and wife Dawn were inspired to bring high quality chocolate to the small beach community of Cannon Beach.

Fast forward a decade and the Cannon Beach Chocolate Café is not only serving the finest chocolate from around the world, but we now make our own top-quality truffles made from the finest ingredients, along with home-made pastries, chocolate bars, and bark. The Chocolate Café also went from serving only French-press coffee to serving world famous Illy espresso. The Chocolate Café is also home to the Legendary Chocolate Milkshake and hot chocolate made from real chocolate.

BRUCE'S CANDY KITCHEN

A family owned and operated store of 4 generations we offer a wide variety of mouth watering sweets. From our award winning salt water taffy, handmade chocolates and caramel corn you're sure to find just what you need to meet your sweet tooth. We pride ourselves on providing our customer with the highest quality confections our family can produce. A family tradition since 1963.

SUZY'S SCOOPS

"Tillamook Ice Cream and friendly service. What more could you possibly need??? Hard to see from the street as it is tucked into some shops about 100 feet from the main sidewalk. But you're going to be happy you looked!!"

Love this place!!! Even though we can get tillamook ice cream at home, we love that when we come down to cannon beach, we don't have to drive to tillamook to get the ice cream! Owner is super friendly. Milkshakes are also amazing!!!
